Introduction

1. An organization is a unit of your client or legal entity - examples are store, department. You can share data between organizations.

2. We can generate this report to know the Account Element mapped to the transactions