

Introduction

- Introduction

Introduction

Introduction

NCR window is used as rejection document. Using this document user can enter the corrective and preventive action for the rejection and can provide the future recommendations to avoid same the issue Repeated.

Business Example

In a pump industry after inspecting the component if the product has some defect. Quality inspector will reject the component and raise the NCR (Non Confirmation Report).