

Introduction

- Introduction

Introduction

Internal quality audits are conducted to ensure ongoing compliance with requirements of the QMS standards, and the Division's policies and procedures. This is accomplished by auditing against all important processes and areas, and by applying all applicable sections of the standard.