

Resource Load View

- Introduction
- Process - Resource Load View

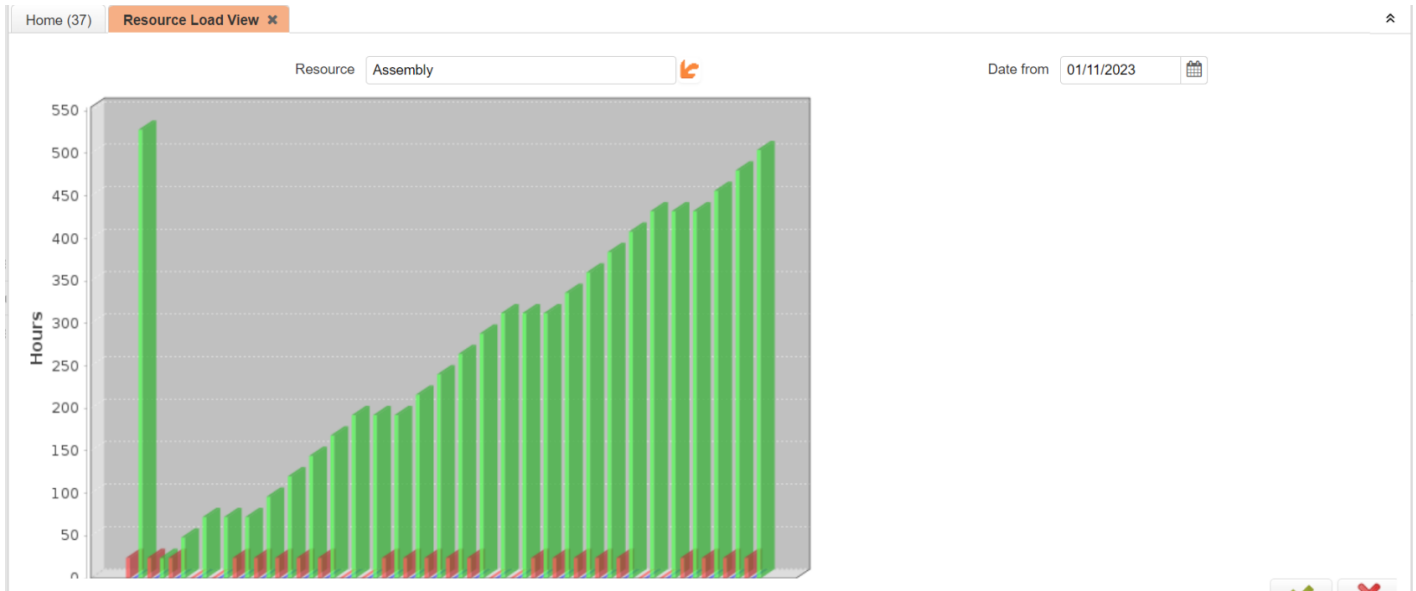

Introduction

It may be designed to provide a graphical or tabular representation of resource allocation across different projects or tasks. This view could help users visualize the workload of resources, track their availability, and optimize resource assignments for improved efficiency

Business process

"Resource Load View" feature in their ERP system has revolutionized project management. Faced with multiple concurrent projects and diverse client demands, the project managers leverage this tool to gain real-time insights into resource allocation.

Process - Resource Load View

Resource : User have to select the resources in this field.

Date from : User have to mention the date from to represent the chart view of the resource load.

while the user click "ok" button system will generate the result in the chart view.