

Window Introduction

- Introduction

Introduction

Introduction:

This window is used to receive the feedback from the customer regarding the service.

Business Example:

Once after the service is completed the customer will provide the service feed back on the service.This window is used to track that information.